

WILD GOOSE CHASE

Join our road trip adventure to discover the special, unique, and weird sites across our council region. Girls and their families or troops can take road trips to locations that make our communities unique and achieve the Wild Goose Chase patches.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE:

1. Decide which Wild Goose Chase your family will embark on; there are five different maps based on our council's regions.
2. Girl Scouts will then read the clues and, with the help of Google, find each location.
3. Gather your Wild Goose Chase team, pack a picnic, select your car ride playlist, and document plenty of photos on your travels. (Use #GSEIWIWildGooseChase and tag @gseiwi on Instagram and Twitter!)
4. Complete your map? Submit your photos and order your patches on GirlScoutsToday.org. Patches will be ordered on October 1. Parents and Troop Leaders will be contacted when they are ready for pick up.

HELPFUL TIPS:

Daisy, Brownie, and Junior Girl Scouts should work together with their families or troop leaders to chart where to go and in what order.

Cadette, Senior, and Ambassador Girl Scouts should go “old school” and use a paper map! Using the map, girls should direct their parents or guardians to find each location.

Parents and guardians can scan the QR Codes on the map to identify the correct locations if needed. This challenge is on your honor so remember to be honest and fair Girl Scouts.

The majority of experiences are free. A dollar sign on the clue will indicate if there is a small cost to attend the location.

Finished guessing?

Scan for the correct locations!

1. Hope you aren't afraid of heights, because on top of this mountain, you can soar like an eagle or slide to the valley! 💰

2. Check out the views of 3 different states from the world's steepest, shortest scenic railway. It is better to ride than to walk up the hill! Take a selfie from the top! 💰

3. Catch a rare glimpse of Heron catching tadpoles in this 60+ gardens haven. Luckily, unlike most birds this pair seems content to stay in place!

5. This store has the popular drink that was inspired by Native Americans' use of sassafras root and first marketed by a Pharmacist. Try it as a float! 💰

7. Get up close and personal with this waterway which borders all of eastern Iowa. You can walk along the edge of the water and take a picture with your favorite sculpture.

4. Artists have created over 40 murals in this City by the River. How many can you find? There might even be some feathered friends pictured!

6. Here lies the founder of the Port City of Dubuque, he has a great view!

8. The store is named after a bean but you will find some other great snacks to purchase here. Grab some of their peanut butter for a future picnic. 💰
