

WILD GOOSE CHASE

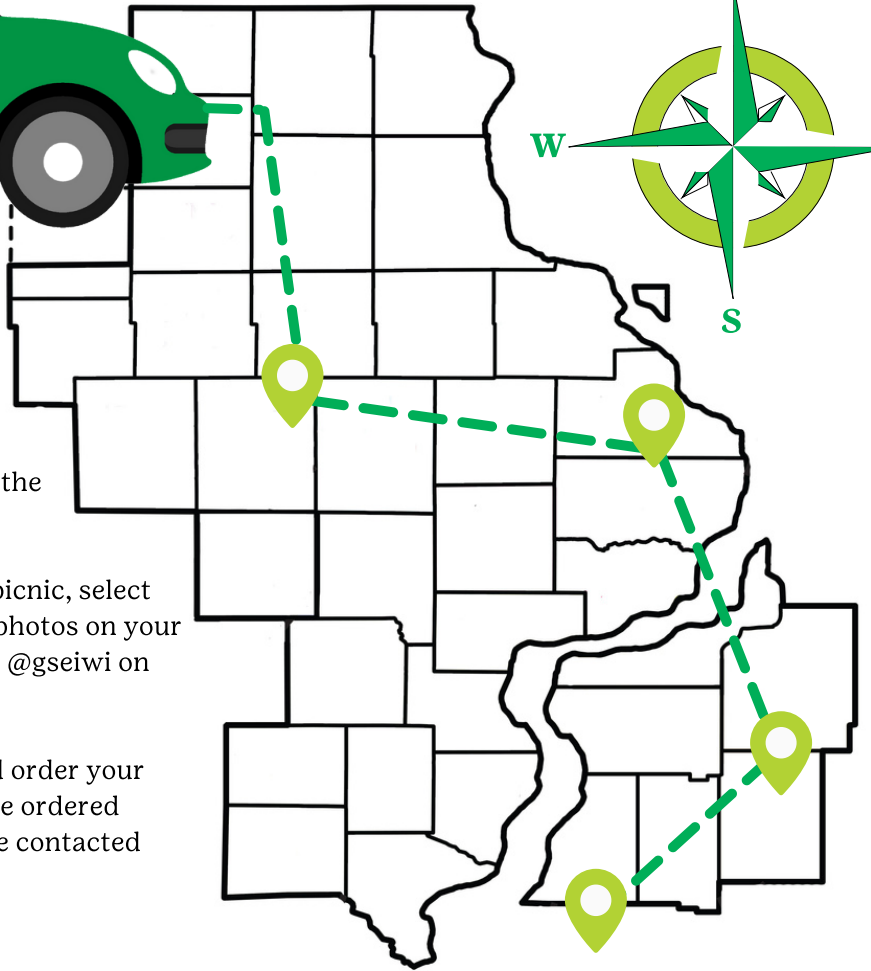

Join our road trip adventure to discover the special, unique, and weird sites across our council region. Girls and their families or troops can take road trips to locations that make our communities unique and achieve the Wild Goose Chase patches.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE:

1. Decide which Wild Goose Chase your family will embark on; there are five different maps based on our council's regions.
2. Girl Scouts will then read the clues and, with the help of Google, find each location.
3. Gather your Wild Goose Chase team, pack a picnic, select your car ride playlist, and document plenty of photos on your travels. (Use #GSEIWIWildGooseChase and tag @gseiwi on Instagram and Twitter!)
4. Complete your map? Submit your photos and order your patches on GirlScoutsToday.org. Patches will be ordered on October 1. Parents and Troop Leaders will be contacted when they are ready for pick up.

HELPFUL TIPS:

Daisy, Brownie, and Junior Girl Scouts should work together with their families or troop leaders to chart where to go and in what order.

Cadette, Senior, and Ambassador Girl Scouts should go “old school” and use a paper map! Using the map, girls should direct their parents or guardians to find each location.

Parents and guardians can scan the QR Codes on the map to identify the correct locations if needed. This challenge is on your honor so remember to be honest and fair Girl Scouts.

The majority of experiences are free. A dollar sign on the clue will indicate if there is a small cost to attend the location.

Scan for the correct locations!

1. This college was established by abolitionists and declared inclusive of all students in 1837. Find the spot which hosted a debate between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas.

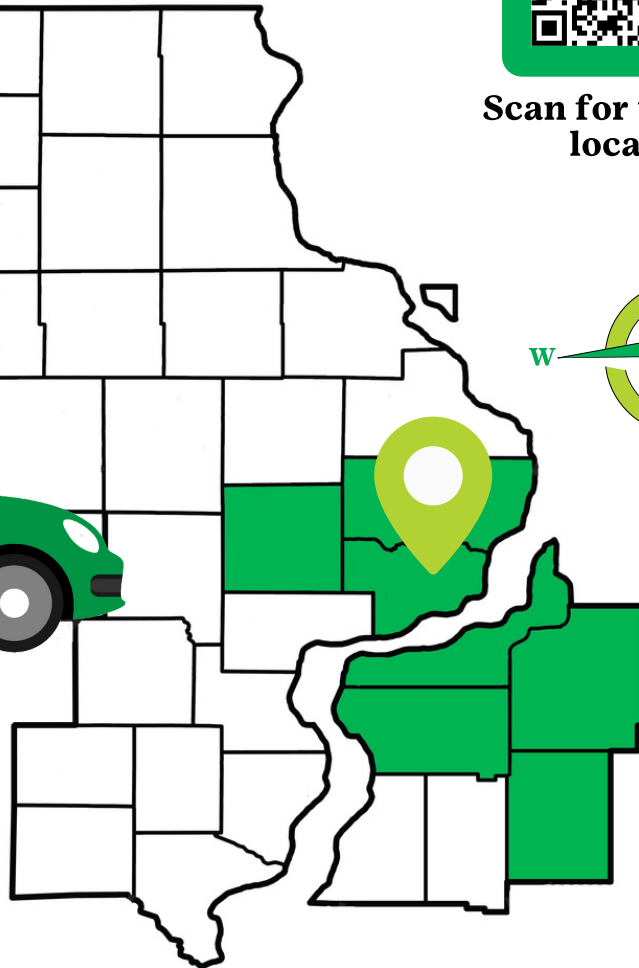

2. If finding the debate spot for Lincoln and Douglas has you feeling peckish, discover this coffee and tea shop named after a person who runs an overnight establishment. Participants can purchase a frozen treat here. 💰

3. The "best old fashioned ice cream parlor in the world" is over 100 years old and family owned. Find out what a "green river" means to this place. 💰

4. Learn about this Native American whom battled many to try and preserve his Sauk Nation home. This historic site bears his name and you can take a photo with his statue.

5. We have all seen many barns throughout our council, but Ryan's is a unique shape and over 100 years old.

6. Visit the 8,000 gallon aquarium to see local river species or go on a naturalist guided cruise on the Blue Heron.

7. Find the feathered friend of Davenport in this city park which used to be the site of a zoo.

8. Find the home's of the fairy's in this garden paradise owned by Pat. See if you can get a picture of a fairy. 💰
